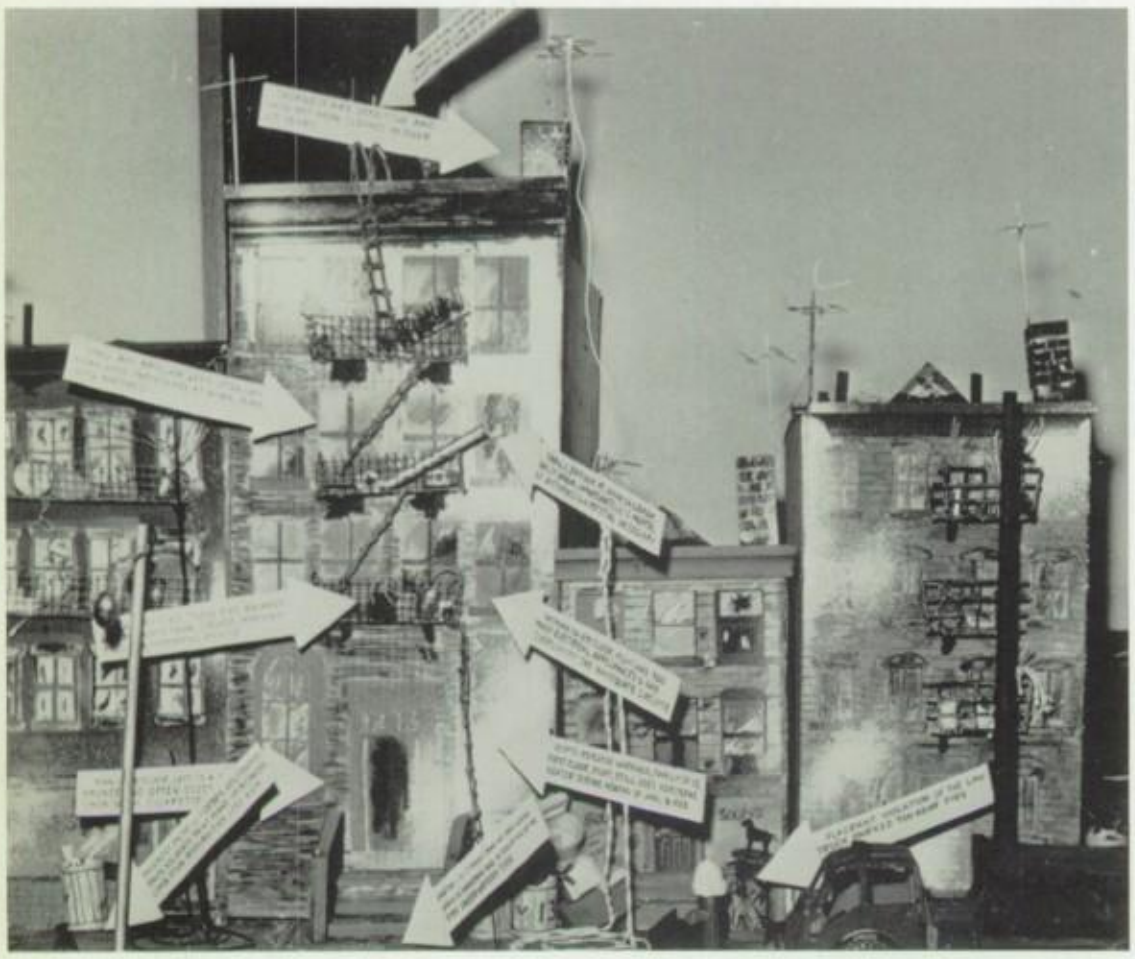
FERRIS WHEEL, Volume 54

Art is one of the finest forms of man's self-expression. It gives satisfaction to the artist and inspiration to the beholder.

Satisfaction comes to us, the students, as we pass through Ferris learning the techniques needed to make a masterpiece of each small day and finally of life. Inspiration comes when we observe the ways and deeds of the skilled and ever striving faculty.

Among those who have helped us most to find this satisfaction is a dedicated artist-member of the Ferris faculty. He has continually inspired us to reach for higher goals. Just as art records all that men do, through his fine teaching and guidance, he has shown us that the work we produce becomes a record of our lives.



Therefore, the senior class, in testimony of his continuing artistry and in gratitude for his untiring service, presents this record of our lives together at Ferris to you, Mr. Frank Sullivan, artist-teacher.

As Mr. Brogan proudly looks on, Mr. Sullivan accepts the first place Fire Prevention trophy awarded for 13 Conflagration Street, (above), a project constructed for fire prevention week by the students of his first period art class: D. Aponte, C. Cortese, M. Gamba, P. Pelliccia and B. Washington.

Mr. Sullivan watches over the progress of Ferrissian art editor P. Pelliccia's latest oil painting.

Mr. Sullivan points out the correct background technique for pastels to L. Yurchak.

Y. Falto carefully watches as Mr. Sullivan shows her how to improve a detail of her charcoal drawing. M. Cobb and J. Velez look on patiently, knowing they will soon receive the individual attention Mr. Sullivan gives to each student.

Man is art . . . art is man.

Throughout the ages, man has created many masterworks in all fields of art; music, sculpture, architecture, literature, painting. The one significant factor common to all fields is that each is an outlet for creative expression. History and man's feelings can be traced through the various periods of art.

In the contemporary world there is developing a modern school of art expressing the feelings, desires and hopes of modern man. The story of the year 1965, which is about to unfold before you, is conveyed by means of modern art forms. We feel we can accomplish this since modern is a most dynamic medium and the people of today are one of the most creative.

The dynamic and forceful design that begins the Faculty Section illustrates the qualities of leadership and knowledge which are characteristic of our faculty.

A single dominating figure, a graduate, introduces the Senior Section, because to be a graduate is to reach the epitome of your high school career. Throughout this section, the members of the graduating class show their self-expression by means of paintings done in art class under the direction of Mr. Sullivan.

The Underclass Section is depicted by three gradient figures, signifying the gradual growth and development of students from freshmen, to sophomores, to juniors, the final stage before reaching the ultimate goal—seniors.

The Activities Section, represented by the Honor Society Arch, enumerates the personality traits one aspires to cultivate through participation in group efforts.

The sharp and precise figures which open the Sports Section indicate the need for man to develop and reach out in order to achieve his goal.

A painting in oil by Frank Sullivan.

Just as it is the ambition of the artist to express himself in a perfected form; it is our aim not only to be graduated but moreover to obtain an education that will enable us to achieve our goal in life.

Who took the many colors of our lives and gave them meaning,
sculptured our lines
and gave us purpose,
brought us from shapelessness into a world of light and beauty?

Mr. Brogan enthusiastically shows the blueprint of the New Ferris to the department chairmen: Mr. Boylan, English; Mr. Bosi, Language; Mr. Sanders, Math; Mrs. Herreilers, History; and Mr. Budenbender, Business. Not pictured: Mr. Dimont, Science; Mr. Hockin, Physical Education; Mr. Rolnick, Industrial.

Representing the 1964 Ferrissian staff, alumni W. Smith and C. Hyjek present Mr. Brogan with the award they received in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association yearbook competition.

R. Rogalski consults Mr. Brogan about the printing of the senior play tickets.

Mr. Brogan proudly announces that L. Kelly has been named first place winner in the Clean-up Week Poster Contest

Mr. Brogan speaks about the importance of good study habits at an assembly.

PRINCIPAL

John T. Brogan

In 1962, Dickinson Accredited Evening High School lost Mr. John T. Brogan, for it was at that time that he left the principalship there and transferred to Ferris, a great gain for our school.

After two years of service he has truly proven to be a dedicated instrument in the advancement of our school's standards. Needless to say a principal's task is one of great responsibility and difficult work, which Mr. Brogan administers with zest and enthusiasm.

As one walks through the corridors of Ferris, the changes that he has brought about become apparent: a new dress code has been instituted; music has been added in cafeteria to create a relaxing lunchtime atmosphere; and each student's efforts in extra-curricular activities have been recognized and rewarded.

These accomplishments could only have come about through the efforts of a man who has a great love for his work and a deep interest in the welfare of the student body. As we all know Mr. Brogan is never too busy to give individual guidance to any student.

At the present, Mr. Brogan gives much of his time and energy to the planning of the New James J. Ferris High School.

It is our hope that this understanding and sincere man will remain principal of James J. Ferris High School for many years to come.

VICE PRINCIPAL

One of Dr. Finn's many difficult assignments is the arrangement of student schedules. At her desk she approves schedule forms and later checks them against master schedules with Mrs. Pinkham, who assists her in this important activity.

Dr. Margaret Finn, serving her third year as vice principal, continues to give of herself untiringly for the benefit of Ferris High School and, above all, for the students.

While carrying out the many and varying duties of her office, she never allows herself to lose contact with pupils or fellow faculty members. Among the extra tasks she undertakes is the co-advisement of the Ferris chapter of the National Honor Society. Dr. Finn, through the Society and all her other activities, demonstrates to all of us the true value of our studies and our training for the future.

In addition Dr. Finn is active in her community and Church; teaching religion classes for the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine at nearby St. Michael's, lecturing at Fordham University as a member of the Latin faculty and speaking before groups throughout the state.

Senior girls D. Brown and M. Lattucca seek advice from Dr. Finn concerning their plans for employment after graduation.

ASSISTANTS TO THE PRINCIPAL

Mr. Melleno pauses for a moment from his busy routine as Athletic Co-ordinator and Boys' Disciplinarian to smile at the camera.

Scheduling sports, selling tickets, attending games and presenting athletic awards are some of the varied concerns of an athletic co-ordinator. Mr. Melleno's interest in sports exceeds the boundaries of Ferris; as he, himself, is a member of the Official Atlantic Coast Football League as well as the president of the Hudson County Baseball Empires' Association. Along with his promotion of extra-curricular activities, Mr. Melleno, as Mr. Brogan's assistant, serves as disciplinarian for the six hundred male students at Ferris.

K. Barrett and K. Day help Mr. Melleno sell tickets for the Horseshoe Conference Basketball Tournament.

Completing her Doctorate Equivalency in June, Miss Landers calls upon her broad educational background and her former experiences as a history teacher to fulfill the many duties of an assistant to the principal. Reponsible for the conduct and study habits of the six hundred female students at Ferris, Miss Landers' days are always hectic but she finds her work to be both enjoyable and rewarding.

Miss Landers explains the procedure of the January retreat to P. DiMartino.

GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT

Freshmen confused in their new environment as well as seniors making decisions concerning their future careers find counsel in our guidance department.

Problems of personal student adjustment, assignments of curriculum which will give students the preparation necessary for their chosen fields, selections of suitable colleges, obtaining scholarships for deserving seniors and applications for postgraduate employment are the duties of Miss Browne, Mrs. Camp and Mr. Nissenbaum.

While providing these essential aids for the 1300 Ferris students, these three dedicated educators also perform the routine tasks of planning and supervising tests and maintaining accurate student records.

ANNE F. CAMP, M.A.

During their free period A. Salvatore, J. Pouders, I. Pasternack and B. Thereas enjoy talking to Miss Browne.

The 1964-65 school year at Ferris found along with the new freshmen, a new freshman adviser. Miss Browne has received her education at New York University and at Columbia University, obtaining a doctoral degree in Guidance and Administration.

This quest for knowledge plus her experiences as a former mathematics teacher at Snyder High School make her an asset to both our school and faculty.

ELEANOR BROWNE, Ph. D.

Our senior girls are most fortunate to have as their adviser a woman of both academic and artistic achievement. Mrs. Camp received her masters and continued her post-graduate study in guidance and psychology at Columbia University Teachers' College where she was elected to two National Honor Societies, Pi Lambda Theta for Women and Kappa Delta Pi. A former art teacher at Dickinson High School, Mrs. Camp has also studied at Parson's School of Art and is a member of The National Association of Women Artists..

T. Cassella, S. Motyka, L. Lane and S. Amorosa are interested in hearing about Mrs. Camp's duties as senior adviser.

Mr. Nissenbaum has been affiliated with the Jersey City high schools for thirty-three years. Of these, twenty-eight years have been spent on the Ferris faculty; twelve years as a teacher of law and history and sixteen years as a guidance counselor.

Mr. Nissenbaum is also an Attorney and Counselor at Law, having been admitted to the New Jersey Bar in 1936.

Miss Cassaro shows M. DiSalvo the correct sewing technique.

The home economics department offers one year courses in sewing and cooking as electives for girls in any curriculum. The primary goal of both courses is to improve the quality of home and family living. The girls not only become acquainted with household problems, but also partake in varied domestic experiences which are the responsibility of the homemaker.

Miss Gannon watches as C. Barker, B. Rocin and J. Hochan finish making their jelly.

Art Club

By taking the available courses in art and fine arts, students may further develop their skills and talents in the field of painting, pastels, drawing and printing. Practical application is attained during the year because the art students design and construct stage sets for all auditorium programs and enter their art projects in various competitions with other schools.

Through this media the art department fulfills three aesthetic functions: an enrichment of our cultural backgrounds, an appreciation and knowledge of the arts, and a practical application of the approaches and techniques of our expression.

L. Wakaruk pauses in art while Mr. Sullivan admires her artistic work.

Music, the universal language, becomes both a study and a means of expression through our music department. Opportunity to develop proficiencies in the skill of technical performance through the media of the vocal and instrumental groups is augmented by general music courses offered to every member of the student body. The performing groups realize a rare satisfaction in making a contribution of enrichment to the lives and experiences of their audience and they enjoy the "fruits of labor" that come through learning to subjugate one's individuality to the common cause of a fine performance by a group—a truly democratic procedure and a vital factor in preparation for life in the future.

FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA

Adviser: Miss L. Marecki

The Future Business Leaders of America Club, known as the FBLA, is an organization of students interested in working at Ferris to gain office experience. To qualify for membership a student must maintain a good scholastic record, possess an exemplary discipline record and have the necessary skills. The club prepares its members for the office atmosphere they will encounter after graduation, and services Ferris at the same time.

Office 105: Mrs. K. Thomas and Mrs. A. Flanagan seem happy to take a break from the many hours they spend preparing student records.

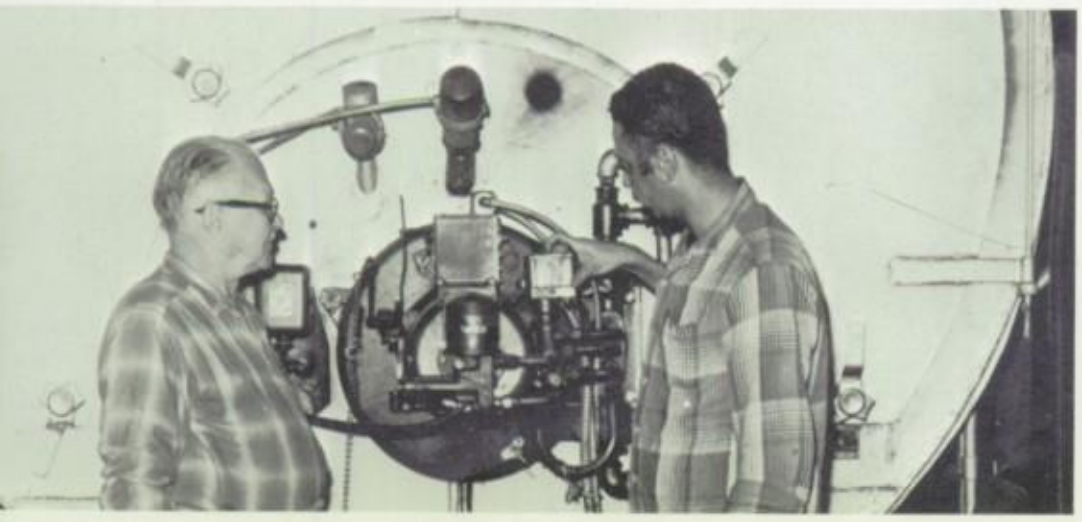
At Ferris there are four special services whose operators' accomplishments are very rarely appreciated. The cafeteria staff provides our hungry students with food they always enjoy. The librarians help each student to find reference material and suitable book reports.

The bookroom clerks distribute books and other school supplies to the students. The custodians try to maintain a pleasant and clean atmosphere here at Ferris. Without these very necessary services, Ferris could not operate. We salute the people who perform them.

Mr. F. Lempio and G. Perkins inspect all working units for safety. Mr. Tuohy, chief custodian, tries to prevent the littering of the streets at Ferris High School.



Seniors

Four years ago we came to Ferris;
Unformed we were and our goals unset.
We gave ourselves to the artist-teachers
Who colored our futures, invisioning our goals.
Smoothing rough spots and rounding sharp edges,
They cut the lasting changes forming
The finished product — the Class of '65.

We are leaving — finished; yet just started,
Going out on our own; confident of success,
Conscious that the artists' efforts
Will prove worthwhile.

MEMORIES OF OUR SENIOR YEAR

It all had started in our Junior year, choosing officers for our '65 class so near.
With formals taken and proofs on a desk,
we tried to select which one was the best.
We bought senior buttons and all was a fuss,
we saw the word "Senior" applied only to us.
Barney's was the place to which we ran first,
to eat sandwiches and quench our thirst.
Our football games we will always remember,
and the 4-4 record we held in November.
Senior meetings were held at the end of the day,
to tell of the dues we would have to pay.
Senior ballots were taken and when they were done,
everyone was happy for the people who had won.
Our Ferrissian was started, and deadlines were set,
sometimes it was only by hours that they were met.
Some dues were paid, and senior rings were bought,
and the kids who didn't pay were always sought.
The fads were A-lined skirts and high neck sweaters, diamond-shaped nylons and boot and sock getters.
Interesting and good were our papers of the Green and Gold,
with gossip and news which we will always behold.
Early in December basketball games had begun, and we were all quite happy when they were successfully won.
Our Christmas program was as great as before,
and we all knew a nice vacation was in store.
Our Christmas party included dancing and food,
and everyone was in a happy-go-lucky mood.
The Good Earth and Hamlet put us in a jam,
for soon enough we'd see them in our exam.
In the holiday rush and Christmas spirit,
we all knew we had to study and bear it.
A Summer In New York was played by a great role, and when it became a success, we had reached our goal.
Then came the Prom and the good time we found,
each boy in his tux and each girl in her gown.
Our Exit Day program was next in line,
and with our dinner, things proved to be fine,
At the end of the term, with much panic and unease, we ran around school yelling, "Sign my Ferrissian, please!"
As if by magic, our entire senior class, managed to stay together until final exams passed.
In all the confusion we realized soon,
that we would be leaving Ferris High School that June.
Then the night came when we finally graduated,
and throughout our long life that day would be dated.
For after four long years, we had not come to an end,
but to a beginning to which we can always depend.

Mr. Boylan

To make our students realize the many reasons for Thanksgiving, Mr. Boylan, the annual adviser to the Thanksgiving auditorium, presents a program entitled Thanksgiving in Other Lands. Students, recently come to Ferris from foreign countries, tell Thanksgiving experiences remembered from their childhood years. The students: F. Berardo, A. Villemont, C. Jastrzembska, A. Sanchez, N. Siciliano and M. Golematis.

THANKSGIVING

SPECIAL PROGRAMS

CHRISTMAS

Mrs. Marrow directs the Robed Choir in Christmas selections appropriate for the Nativity tableaux.

E. Rivera, an alumnus from 1963, returning from Montclair State College for the annual program, is invited to enhance the choral selections with a solo performance.

Mrs. Marrow and the Mellowtones sing and enact the story of The Night Before Christmas.

N. Henry and S. Younger dressed as snowmen perform a dance especially created for the program.

The audience gets in the holiday spirit by singing favorite Christmas carols with Mrs. Marrow. Alex joins in the fun.

M. Gattis, narrator, enriches the tableaux presentations by his dramatic reading of the events preceding Christ's birth and enhances the musical arrangements with his background explanation of their origins. Here he tells the touching story of the creation of Silent Night.

The Mellowtones, dressed as Christmas carolers, sing Jingle Bells.

Greatly enjoying the Christmas Program originated and directed by his mother, Alex Marrow meets the student body on his one-day visit to Ferris.

As the Senior Christmas Party begins, Miss Paterno and her senior helpers, J. Cordelione, B. Pacos, C. Belka, M. DiSalvo, M. Skubisz, M. Lattucca, L. Tamagnini and D. Brown, busily arrange some goodies for the hungry two-hundred partygoers.

M. Hernandez and A. Berrios portray The Holy Couple, Joseph and Mary, in the nativity tableaux.

"O.K. George, we'll take over while you, John, Paul, and Ringo have a break."

"How could she".

Marvelous Mel relates the fateful day when the Kremlin crumbled before him.

"Living it up".

"I warned you about staying on that crash diet for 6 months, didn't I?"

"What a beautiful spring day, let's cut class."

8:44 a.m. CHARGE!!!

"Yes, I do think it resembles him."

"Going up? Take an elevator".

Congratulations on winning 1st place in the Fire Prevention Poster Contest, Miss ... uh ... oh yes, Miss Chickie Gamba.

You expected the caption "this group had 25% fewer cavities," didn't you?

How could you eat at a time like this?

3:05 p.m. AND ALL IS WELL.

Annabelle Ames (O. Virrazzi), a Southern belle having a very romantic fling in New York, is confronted with the men in her life: a dress designer Zachary Bryan (K. Day), Count Marcello Di Giacomo (F. Conti), her Southern fiancee Curtis Gaylord Ogglethorpe (R. Rogalski) and an advertising executive Kenyon McClinton (D. O'Keefe).

The regular staff at Debutante, editor-in-chief Lucy Jennings Woodruff (L. Bettcher), fiction editor Gretchen Dana (N. Henry), Gert the receptionist (D. Brown) and beauty editor Larae Donahue (L. Lane), bravely await the annual chaotic descent of the Guest Editors.

Happily united at the end of the play is the leading couple, Jennifer Truex (A. Norat) and Tod Colbert (R. Valvano).

Teen-age record star Pudgy Roulette (M. Hernandez) serenades Flippy Wonder (S. Motyka) after she interviews him as her Debutante assignment. Later, joined by his combo, K. Matelski on drums and J. Basta on guitar, Pudgy sings Boom-boom.

The main attraction at the Guest Editors' farewell party is the famous singing star Denise Forsythe (J. Cordileone).

The senior play cast takes a bow. First row: I. Struszczyk, L. Bettcher, S. Carter, O. Virrazzi, F. Conti, D. Brown, K. Day, A. Norat, R. Valvano, L. Lane, Mr. Hernandez, S. Motyka, D. O'Keefe, C. Dzienis, A. Dychko and A. Gleba; second row: D. Dygulski, A. Reed, G. Plewa, S. Amorosa, J. Iungerman, N. Henry, R. Rogalski, A. Cassazza, T. Romanowski, L. Malave and K. Murphy. Not pictured: M. Skubisz, L. Tamagnini, J. Cordileone, J. Basta, J. Miceli and K. Matelski.

SENIOR PLAY

Director: Miss C. Watson

A most memorable event of senior year is the class play. A Summer in New York, based on an actual yearly New York event, told the hilarious story of a group of college girls working as Guest Editors for the summer at Debutante, a top fashion magazine.

The girls' ambitions, work assignments, romantic entanglements and unique personalities caused some very funny situations which kept the audiences laughing at both the morning performance for the student body and the evening performance for the seniors and their guests.

The play was directed by Miss Watson, a graduate student at Jersey City State College and a former student teacher at Ferris. The senior class thanks Miss Watson for the many hours she spent rehearsing the play to make it an outstanding senior activity.

R. Valvano, M. Hernandez, T. Romanowski, R. Rogalski and D. O'Keefe receive orders from Mr. Scala, faculty adviser, to clear the set after rehearsal.

Miss Watson, director, checks script changes with M. Lattucca (sitting), stage manager, K. Murphy, production manager, and M. Di Salvo, assistant stage manager.

New horizons, new ideas, new friends,
all help to mold us.
No minute, no hour, no day will pass in these four years without Contributing to our final form.

HIGHLIGHTS OF OUR YEARS

Through Ferris' doors as Freshmen we walked,
As upperclassmen looked, teased and talked.
With curiosity and excitement we came,
Hoping the next day wouldn't be the same.
Remember how frightened we were when we entered,
Realizing upon us all attention was centered.
Our first audi-program was what we sought,
"Nothing like this in grammar school," we thought.
New faces, teachers and experiences we met,
With schedules in hands, until study seats were set.
Some of us wished for a helping hand from a friend,
While in science we wondered, "Would this period ever end?"
Parents came one night to see what high school was about,
First marking period came and report cards were out.
Then came June and the surprises were ended,
Until September the school year agended.

Through Ferris' doors as Sophomores we fled,
"No longer Freshmen", we thought as we sped.
With another year, we would know more than before,
As we entered Ferris High School's door.
We sought old friends not seen since June,
Our second year of high school had begun too soon.
The rallies and games were fun galore,
And as usual, Mondays were quite a bore.
We joined clubs and took part in plays,
Realizing to get points, these were the ways.
Subjects were harder as we continued our course,
Then studying for exams we had to force.
Lunch and study periods could never be beat,
Especially in the hot summer heat.
In the month of June, in our minds we could sketch,
What we would do with our close summer stretch.

Through Ferris' doors as Juniors we passed,
Thinking the time went all too fast.
Honor Society inductions were made that year,
And in classes we sat with those smart kids so near.
Julius Caesar and Macbeth were among the books we read,
But from acting out the scenes, we fled.
Mid-terms passed and we went into our second half,
As we thought of joining the Yearbook Staff.
Girls' State and Boys' State put us in a fuss,
Cause we knew this year it applied to us.
Home Nursing for girls was once a week,
Those points from our teacher we did seek.
At the Athletic Dinner we were quite thrilled,
Of those nice memories our heads were filled.
As our Senior friends left, we all shed a tear,
But we were glad our Senior year was so near.

Activities

Activities, devised to round out our Ferris days, enrich our knowledge and our lives.
After the first unsteady strokes applied in freshman year confidence and skill develop.
In the media of each distinct activity
we find our individual strengths, and sharing these
we help each other grow.
The colors vary
as each day is renewed;
the light pastels of new acquaintance soon deepen to the richer hues of true friendship.

ART CLUB

Adviser: Miss P. Toscano

A. Salvatore, R. Cultrera, E. Pelote and L. Perez begin making puppets by painting the heads which are first modeled from papier mache.

C. Pelote watches J. Santana hammer the nails for her weaving loom.

At Christmas, colored wreaths hung on every homeroom door added both spirit and beauty to the building and on Parents' Night student paintings brought many compliments and admiring glances. These welcome additions to Ferris were the work of the Art Club, a group newly organized by Miss Toscano. The club stimulates creative thinking and improves art techniques through varied art projects: oil painting, water-color, picture framing, pastels, clay modeling, weaving and puppet making.

During weekly meetings the student artists work on their individual or group projects in an informal atmosphere where they may consult Miss Toscano and exchange art ideas with one another.

Officers L. Kozar, president, and P. Ran, treasurer, water color as E. Pelate, secretary, and Miss Toscano offer suggestions. Not pictured: J. Santana, vice president.

Seniors J. Miles and C. Fazioli sketch in India ink with helpful assistance from adviser Miss Toscano.

When weather permits Miss Toscano and club members P. Rivera, M. Vega, J. Santana, A. Ocasio and K. Hill hold the meeting in nearby Hamilton Park where they can freely sketch nature's beauty against the background of the city.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

Adviser: Mrs. J. DeNardo

The Future Teachers of America acquaints its members with the responsibilities of the profession and encourages their initial interest by providing a deeper insight into the meaning and rewards of teaching. This is accomplished by regular club meetings to inform students about the colleges which offer teacher-training curriculums; through conferences attended by all F.T.A. organizations in northern New Jersey which give students an opportunity to exchange ideas; and through actual practical experiments such as tutoring, Sunday school teaching and Girl Scout leadership.

Officers F. Walejko, K. Tooman, M. Stephens, N. Elefterion and adviser Mrs. DeNardo plan a series of visits to New Jersey state colleges for interested club members.

Seniors L. Malave, L. Kwozko and M. Stephens study the teacher-training programs in college catalogs to determine the best college for them.

Before a meeting begins, S. Bobrow, P. Suarez, J. Stamatelos and N. Skvir browse through recent yearbooks from nearby Jersey City State College to see what courses and activities are offered there.

Mrs. DeNardo guides the teaching techniques of K. Rambias, F. Dershowitz, M. Golematis, A. Arvantis, G. Postel and S. Jones, selected participants in the newly organized tutoring program sponsored by the F.T.A. to aid Ferris students having study difficulties.

F.T.A. members wait for their president N. Elefterion to begin a meeting. First row: R. Tozzi, J. DeNegis, S. Denison, B. Kowalewski, G. Dixon, B. Jackson and E. Morales; second row: L. Rosensweig, G. Logothetis, M. Cook, A. Trugillo, G. Pelote and M. Czerny.

First row: L. Marino, B. Venable, L. Kwozko, A. Calamito, G. Fallacara, M. Bauer, Mrs. Márrow, director, A. Fiqueroa, E. Valentine, M. Valentine, C. Lamont, D. Weare, D. Yarbrough, E. Rodriquez; second row: L. Doloszycki, D. Gahr, I. Burgos, N. Velasquez, B. Keahey, J. McQuiller, C. McKenzie, M. Perez, N. Henry, S. Carter, C. Colello, S. Perez, A. Valentine, M. Edmonds, F. Dershowitz, L. Alvardo; third row: A. Dychko, B. Kowalewski, B. Hall, R. Kaminski, A. Vega, L. Wakaruk, A. Santiago, J. Carter, D. Schuler, F. Pinkney, J. Daye, S. Ramos, R. Donato, L. McClean, G. Sulzinski; fourth row: I. Burgos, D. Zuchowski, C. Matta, Y. Williams, A. Ruiz, M. Perez, J. Popowich, S. Brown, W. Jackson, M. Wilson, C. Hinkelbein, A. Gleba, C. Dzienis; fifth row: L. McGirt, D. Snow, A. McKenzie, G. Paluscio, A. Gates, E. Pelote, M. Aponte, J. Winniczuk, R. Miedzjiewski, E. Rivera, D. Aponte, R. Richardson, A. Dearborn, T. Neville, J. Pompilio, L. Comancho and A. Reed.

Mrs. Marrow leads the entire student body in a medley of songs for Saint Patrick's Day at the conclusion of the Boys and Girls State Assembly on March 17th.

The three choirs, all directed by Mrs. Marrow, may be compared to a step ladder of musical achievement. A female vocalist begins in the Glee Club where she first develops her voice qualities and learns to sing with others.

The second step is the Robed Choir, a chosen group of male and female students, who strive through assembly performances to entertain and enlighten their teachers and fellow students. The Robed Choir sings sacred or secular music in accordance with the tone of the occasion, as they are available for all special assemblies in addition to their annual Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter presentations. The final step of achievement is appointment to the Mellowtones by Mrs. Marrow. This highly selective group works long and hard to attain harmonic perfection for they often represent Ferris in competition and at community engagements, gaining prestige and praise for our school.

Membership in any of the three Choirs provides a means of creative expression, develops musical abilities and strengthens the cooperative spirit of working with others towards a common artistic goal.

CHOIRS

Director: Mrs. H. Marrow

First row: S. Carter, M. Perez, L. Alvarado, M. Bauer, C. Lamont, M. Krasnodemski; second row: R. Miedziejewski, M. Valentine, L. Kwozko, D. Yarbrough, F. Dershowitz, M. Edmonds; third row: A. C. Lamont and J. Miceli, seniors, practice in the band room where Mr. Epstein is always on hand to give individual instruction during their free periods.

Mr. Epstein conducts the Band as students enter the auditorium for a program. Later he accompanies a vocalist on the piano.

N. Skvir

To aid the band's annual Christmas sale of cards and candy, Mr. Epstein addresses the student body explaining that the money is used to purchase and repair instruments.

Mr. Epstein and the Band proudly represent Ferris in the annual Jersey City Saint Patrick's Day Parade along Kennedy Boulevard.

Director: Mr. M. Epstein

An enjoyable and educational means of accumulating extra-curricular points is participating in the band. One need not have musical experience, as our able and competent director, Mr. Epstein, is more than eager to instruct students on an instrument of their choice.

The band provides music for all auditorium programs, football games and parades; and sponsors an annual band concert. This concert, presented in the spring for the entire school, gives both the faculty and the student body an insight into the performing unity the band has achieved during the year.

After a year of hard work, the members of the band look forward to the annual band excursion, an exciting holiday well earned.

E. Viscardi, drum majorette, leads the Band onto the football field for their half-time performance.

CURRENT EVENTS CLUB

Advisers: Mr. J. Colaneri and Mr. McMarrow

Senior club members J. Pompilio, A. Rosa, J. Osinski and A. Mis prepare to debate United States policy in Viet Nam as E. Piental, timekeeper, writes the topic on the board and Mr. Colaneri gives last minute instruction to J. Reilly, chairman.

Today we live in a rapidly changing world. We, the future citizens, face many problems concerning the progress and success or our nation.

Through the Current Events Club, under the supervision of Mr. Colaneri, interested Ferris students are kept aware of and informed about local, national and international issues.

The members obtain their information from the newspapers, magazines and commentaries on television and radio. Then they exchange views and analyze current problems through discussions and debates.

Female news enthusiasts E. Andrews, F. Scudese, B. Critelle, A. Vega (standing), E. Pelote, M. Edmonds, C. Pelote and Reveria scan News of the week review sections to be sure they've kept informed on the latest happenings in our nation and abroad.

With helpful explanations from Mr. McMarrow and Mr. Colaneri, issues in the local papers and history sheets are read and discussed.

First row: G. Del Piano, L. Hernandez, A. Villemont and F. Marino; second row: J. Cox, A. Ocasio, J. McGreevy and J. Masters.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Advisers: Mr. F. DiDomenico and Mr. J. Sabol

Modeling their club procedure after the Preamble to the Constitution, the club motto "We the members of the Historical Society, in order to form more perfect students", is an inspiration for members to develop their ability to reason and think, thereby becoming better Americans.

To achieve this goal, the club has enlarged its program under the guidance of Mr. F. DiDomenico and Mr. J. Sabol. Members visit such historical landmarks as the Con Edison Laboratory, sponsor a newly-organized Chess Team and dramatize historical events on our national holidays.

To commemorate George Washington's Birthday, the Historical Society presents

The Spirit of '76

In a scene from the play, Z. Rivera, C. Vega, A. Malave and J. Berrios are visited by L. Hernandez portraying General Washington and A. Villemont as General Lafayette. Corporal W. Critelli meanwhile stands guard at Valley Forge.

Chessmen P. Toth and L. Hernandez THINK while waiting for the tournament with Bayonne to begin.

J. Masters and C. Vega pause while arranging a memorial tribute to Sir Winston Churchill.

The Santa Maria arrives at the Columbus Day program bearing M. Skubisz at the helm and J. Masters, Ferris' Christopher Columbus.

J. Masters reads Columbus' last words.

The GREEN and GOLD

IN GOD WE TRUST

Jersey City, New Jersey 1 Ferris High School

The school newspaper, Green and Gold, is one of the best ways to keep informed about current happenings in our school. It not only reports items accurately, but also serves many other functions which include: acquainting the student body with new faculty members, advising freshmen as to school procedure, arousing opinions and comments by means of controversial editorials, featuring outstanding student personalities and publishing special announcements. The staff members are seniors who take the one-semester course in journalism taught by Mr. Tighe. The Green and Gold is a means of putting theories learned in the classroom into practice.

A. Gleba, make-up editor, and her staff R. Miedziejewski, M. Calnen, D. Baird and K. Murphy arrange the articles and pictures for the center pages.

Articles are proof-read by R. Kaminski, R. Trezza, A. Viggiano, F. Turlo, T. Gibbons, N. Elefterion and A. Santana as M. Gattis supervises.

Feature and news staffs meet to plan articles for the Christmas issue. Sitting: S. Jakowski, T. Betlow, N. Henry and K. Day; standing: E. Oziemblo, C. Wright and editor M. Stephens.

L. Lane (right) reads her senior spotlight column to L. Yurchak.

Mr. Brogan congratulates the staff for a fine issue.

Editor M. Stephens and adviser Mr. Tighe listen to tape of Bruce Morrow reading articles from the Green and Gold on his nightly radio program.

Feature staff discusses possible ideas for future articles. Sitting: S. Motyka, A. Paone, K. Barrett and T. Halko; standing: A. Dearborn, J. Pompilio, G. Kirkland and B. Topolewski.

Mr. Tighe reads an editorial submitted for the spring issue by editor F. Conti and assistant editor L. Bettcher.

A. Dearborn, C. Zelinski and I. Piazza, typing staff, proofread articles before mailing them to printer at Boystown.

Feature staff checks accuracy of information being used in articles. Sitting: M. Hernandez, M. Scerbo, feature editor L. Malave and F. Scerbo; standing: B. Topolewski, K. Polombo and I. Williams.

News staff writes some last minute articles for deadline rush. Sitting: C. Matta, C. Elefthrow, news editor O. Virrazzi and G. Kirkland; standing: J. Pompilio.

Advertising the first Green & Gold issue for the 1964-65 school year, the Usherettes appear at an auditorium program with Mr. Brogan and Mr. Tighe.

HONOR

Advisers: Dr. M. Finn,

F. Conti and A. Rosa begin building the Arch of Honor with the block service, which is one of the traits a student must possess to be a member . . .

Senior members renew the

The cornerstone of scholastic achievement in Ferris High School is membership in the Honor Society. The challenge of the members is to meet certain requirements set by the National Honor Society of the Secondary Schools of the United States and fostered by the society's advisers.

Students maintaining a scholastic average of 85 per cent in all subjects are admitted in their junior or senior year.

The golden store of knowledge we are reaping to guarantee success is represented by this block, scholarship, placed in the Arch by F. Conti and J. Falkiewicz . . .

Honor Society members A. Rosa, flag bearer, B. Zupp and A. Toyos, honor guard, stand at attention while assemblage salutes the flag.

B. Pacos inserts the flaming torch. The already active members are: First row: J. Falkiewicz, T. Lozlowski, I. Struszcyk, D. Kohn, A. Toyos, D. Gahr; second row: A. Rosa, J. Kuklasinski, B. Grudecki, B. Zupp; third row: S. Wysmerski, A. Dychko and C. Lamont.

SOCIETY

Mrs. R. Herreilers and Mrs. H. Pinkham

Honor Society pledge.

The torch is placed in the completed Arch of Honor by F. Conti.

D. Gahr and F. Conti insert the Keystone, while B. Pacos lights torch, symbolizing the flaming desire of members to foster excellence in scholarship . . .

This year the organization started a tutoring service at Ferris. They also brighten the lives of the less fortunate children and adults at St. Joseph's Home for the Blind by supervising recreational activities, children's homework and reading to the adults.

In order to meet expenses, Honor Society members sponsor a booster sale and a greeting card sale. With a portion of these finances, the juniors sponsor an annual farewell dinner for the seniors.

At the induction ceremony here pictured, the new members passed under the Arch of Honor, pledged to meet such qualifications as leadership, character and patriotism, signed the roster and secretly wished they could turn back the hands of time to do it over again.

Mrs. Herreilers, Mrs. Pinkham and Dr. Finn, advisers, with the newly inducted members; first row: F. Conti, A. Figueroa, J. Miceli, M. Amoroso, B. Bkiyk, M. Gorny, I. Gregorcewicz; second row: L. Hernandez, C. Jastrezembska, B. Keahey, B. Lowalewski, P. La Rosa, F. Marino, M. McQuade; third row: L. Rolon, B. Turkowski, A. Vega, A. Villemont, R. Wojiechowski and D. Yarborough.

J. Miceli is awarded a silver certificate for having maintained an average of 85 in all subjects in his junior year. B. Pacos, L. Powers and A. Rosa will also be honored by Mr. Brogan.

After leaving class three minutes early, E. Rodriguez, P. Pelliccia, S. Ramos and G. Dixon pause for a quick picture before hurrying to be at their assigned posts when the bell rings and the halls flood with the onrush of students.

Trapped! L. Malave, D. Zuchowski and L. Burgos surprise N. Benique, one of their own senior patrol girls, taking a short cut down the up stair case.

CORRIDOR PATROL

Adviser: Miss C. Gannon

The very active girls of our Corridor Patrol keep order during the hectic three minute change between classes by directing the students to go in the in doors, out the out doors, up the up staircases and down the down staircases. The Corridor Patrol girls are posted at the stairways on every floor and at the many study hall entrances and exits.

After the regular meeting, junior members C. Pelote, B. Keahey, M. McQuade, M. English and M. Amorosa remain to discuss future club plans with adviser Miss Gannon.

Captain S. Wysmierski checks daily to be sure the halls are being kept in good order. D. Dygulski and F. Walejko pass patrol inspection.

Newly appointed sophomore patrol girls I. Burgos, M. Peaten, C. Andrews and E. Pelote are taught club rules by captain S. Wysmierski. Corridor patrol girls must maintain passing grades and receive a teacher's recommendation.

STAGE CRAFT CLUB

Adviser: Mr. C. Rolnick

These are the so-called Behind The Scene Boys that make all auditorium programs possible. Under Mr. Rolnick's direction, they set up the scenery, open the curtains, work microphones and provide many other services for their school.

Stage crew removes platforms after a performance made by the Jersey City State Choir.

Mr. Rolnick gives last minute scenery instructions to F. Beenick before the program begins.

W. Greeley and N. Pandolfo center screen in classroom 114 so that history classes may view the film Making of the President.

J. Osinski, R. Pollara, J. Gage and T. Miller set up the projector to show a film in the auditorium.

J. Osinski covers an assignment during a free period.

VISUAL AIDS CLUB

Adviser: Mr. S. Flomenbaum

Mr. Flomenbaum recently taking charge of the Visual Aids Club has achieved an important modification of the club. He has divided it into two interdependent groups. The first is responsible for providing for classroom needs such as showing educational films and operating film and slide projectors. The second group repairs and maintains this equipment.

The seven officers of our Student Council pause on their way to an 8:30 a.m. meeting.

The Student Council is a true example of democracy in action. Through the elected representatives from each homeroom and the seven primary officers, the students' opinions are made known to the faculty and administration and if possible, acted upon.

Student Council is not a profit organization, but a service to the school. The funds obtained by selling school supplies to students are used to purchase the gold, silver and bronze keys awarded to Seniors for extra-curricular activities and to send candidates to Boys State.

Whenever a club in the school needs help, whether financial or organizational, they call upon the Student Council.

Mr. Heller, adviser, congratulates O. Virrazzi, president, on a job well done.

During homeroom period, A. Toyos and S. Seals assist Mr. Heller in selling school supplies to the student body.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

Advisers: Miss I. Cassaro,
Mrs. T. Drapkin, Miss M. Smith
and Miss P. Toscano

The Junior Red Cross, in affiliation with the Jersey City Red Cross, participates in numerous voluntary services and at the same time offers its members a vital knowledge that will always be useful to them. Stuffed toys, puzzle and comic booklets, place mats and soap dogs are made for children in hospitals; while robes are sewed for the aged. Every second Friday, Ferris members attend Council meetings at the nearby Red Cross Chapter House, where new ideas and plans for projects are discussed. Meetings are then held every Thursday at Ferris so that these ideas and plans can be explained to the volunteer workers and the projects carried out.

M. Garcia, A. Salvatore, B. Benthall, B. Lubeck, L. Battle, Y. Matthews, M. Morales and I. Ramos cut and paste puzzle booklets under Mrs. Drapkin's direction.

J. Kaminski, R. Kaminski, D. Harley and C. McQuiller roll wash cloths, the first step in making soap dogs.

Using soap and prettily colored wash cloths, J. Santana, B. Castleberry, F. Scudese, L. Hamm, S. Castleberry and J. Venable tie ribbons on the soap dogs.

H. Bauer, C. Andrews, G. Kuisic, A. Wingrowski, C. Vega and S. Halley continue work on their projects.

At the start of the meeting, L. McGirt reports on the last Council meeting.

K. Murphy welcomes Father Malanga to Ferris. Father sponsors the Teen Club at nearby Holy Rosary Parish and is a good friend to many of us.

M. Rutkowski, R. Lopez and G. Betlow, proudly wearing the Usherette uniforms, stand ready to distribute programs and greet incoming guests on Parents' Night.

R. Lopez, Mrs. White adviser and G. Betlow smilingly share "Teddy Bear", one of the stuffed animals that will be distributed to orphans.

USHERETTES

Adviser: Mrs. A. White

The Usherettes are present at many important school functions, where visitors to Ferris gain their first impression of the school. They are on hand to welcome doubtful parents on Parents Night, to assist Mr. Brogan in introducing prospective students and their parents to Ferris, and to greet and escort guests of the seniors coming to their play, Exit Day and Graduation exercises.

Along with these routine duties the girls find time to sponsor a drive during Christmas season to collect toys and clothing for orphans. The items donated by both faculty and students are then sent to local charitable institutions for distribution.

E. Oziemblo, D. Dygulski, C. McQuiller, J. Miles, M. Rutkowski, L. Malave, C. Pelote, K. Murphy and P. Pacifico help each other with last minute preparations. For special occasions, the Usherettes wear formals rather than the standard uniform, a white blazer and green skirt, adding both beauty and dignity to these ceremonies.

POINT SYSTEM

Adviser: Miss N. Ehring

Student participation in extra-curricular activities is rewarded not only by the student's individual growth and enjoyment but by the reception of Keys presented by the school at Graduation exercises.

Points are distributed by the club advisers to student members and accumulated throughout all four years.

The Point System aims:

1. To encourage students to participate in extra-curricular activities.

2. To limit the participation of pupils in extra-curricular activities so that they will have a well-balanced, but not burdensome program. "Superior participation in a few selected activities rather than poor service in many is the criterion."

3. To award a Ferris Key to pupils who present evidence of good Ferris Citizenship in extra-curricular participation with unselfish service to the school and fellow pupils.

The only word appropriate for describing our football team is "Grrrr-eat". Although our Bulldogs had to face difficult circumstances, they managed to attain a hard earned and well deserved 4-4 record.

Our very capable coach, Bill Nill, has done an excellent job of teaching the boys clean, hard football and good sportsmanship.

The season was climaxed by our biggest upset and greatest victory, a 26-8 win over Lincoln.

Special congratulations go to Frank Turlo who made the All-County squad for the second time and to Bob DeSaro who was selected for the second squad of the All-County team.

Ferris Fencers Trip Snyder

Edwin Rivera won all four of his matches to lead Ferris' 10-6 victory over Snyder in a fencing match at Snyder yesterday. It was the fourth win in five matches for the Bulldogs this season.

Louis Vila had two wins and two losses for Ferris while Bud Conoiglio was 2-0 for Snyder.

Ferris Wins In Fencing

Led by Len Tamagnini and Armando Lopez, Ferris' fencing team remained undefeated by posting a 13-3 triumph over Snyder yesterday at the winner's strip.

Tamagnini and Lopez went undefeated by posting four wins apiece. Dennis Aponte went undefeated in three matches while Lou Villa added two victories.

Ferris Fencers Sting Lincoln

Lou Villa and Armando Lopez each won four matches as undefeated Ferris outfenced Lincoln, 12-4, at Lincoln yesterday.

It was Ferris' fifth conquest.

FENCING

Coach: Mr. V. Matera

Opening up with a smashing victory against Dickinson, the fencing team continued their march of victory to capture an undefeated season. As a result of top scores against their city rivals, the boys maintained 6 wins and 0 losses, putting them in first place. This outstanding record could not have been attained without much practice and determination under the excellent guidance of Mr. Matera. Congratulations to a fine team.

Ferris Fencers Rout Dickinson

Ferris concluded an undefeated fencing season by overwhelming Dickinson, 15-1, at Ferris yesterday.

TRACK TEAM

Coach: Mr. R. Oppicci

A most competitive sport at Ferris is track. The track team, which consists of both varsity and freshman teams, is headed by Coach Oppicci and Assistant Coach Sladi.

The boys participate in such events as distance running, sprints, hurdles, shotput and javelin throwing in competition with both public and parochial schools throughout Jersey City. Our home meets, as well as the annual State Meet and C.Y.O. Meet, are held at the Jersey City Armory. Outdoor events are held at Lincoln Park.

This season, Ferris is especially proud of the freshman team for winning a bronze medal and a trophy in the event of the 8-80 relay race.

BASKETBALL

Coach: Mr. A. Nicodemo

The basketball season got off to a hectic start when Ferris beat Snyder and Saint Cecelia's in Kearney, gaining entrance into the Jersey City Christmas Tournament. Although we were beaten by Lincoln in the final game, we received the second place trophy.

The undisputed star of our basketball court this season was Jack Iungerman, who joined three Ferris Alumni including Coach Nicodemo in the 1,000 point club. Jack finished the season with 1,081 points, averaging 23.5 points per game, the highest record in the country. He led his teammates in 19 of their 21 games and his performance on the court earned him a place on the second team of The News 1965 Hudson County All-Star high school basketball team.

Stan Brown, our key rebound man, was also singled out by The News for an outstanding basketball season with an honorable mention.

Mr. Brogan congratulates Coach Nicodemo and the team upon receiving a trophy for placing second in the Jersey City Christmas Tournament. First row: O. Pierce, J. Iungerman, G. Hilliard and S. E. Turko, captain of the '65 team, excels in gymnastics, specializing in parallel bars, high bars, rings and floor exercises.

A welcome addition to the Ferris sports scene is the gymnastics team reinstated this year by Mr. John Bird. Coach Bird attended Ferris and was a gymnastic student of the great coach Mr. Leo Martin, whose gymnastics team made Ferris state champions throughout the fifties.

Under Coach Bird, at the national AAU Championship's competition, the newly organized gymnastics compete with other Hudson County teams and predict a winning team by 1966.

Our swimming team, under the able direction of Coach Sadowski, has had one of its best seasons with the winning of two meets against St. Joseph's in West New York and Hoboken High School.

We are especially proud of seniors M. Skubisz and M. Pawlowicz who have competed in both city and county meets. The boys were selected for swimming ability and time qualification.

Due to our lack of proper facilities, home meets are held at Dickinson High School.

Mr. Brogan and his family gaze happily and proudly upon the portrait painted by Mr. Sullivan to whom we dedicate our book. The portrait was presented at a dinner honoring Mr. Brogan for his years of service as principal of Dickinson Evening High School.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It has long since been the habit of the editors to extoll the virtues of their staff and all others who contributed to the book at the conclusion. Special thanks for the 1965 Ferrissian belong to Mr. Brogan, principal, and to Dr. Finn, vice-principal, for their counsel; to Mr. Sullivan, for extending his invaluable artistic advice; to Mr. Halpern and Maurice of Vinodd Studios for their beautiful senior portraits and for their excellent service in developing and printing our photographs; to Mr. Ashe of the Taylor Publishing Company for his interest in the Ferrissian; to Mr. Graziano of S. K. Smith Company for cover service; and to all Patrons and Boosters for their generous financial support.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Adviser: Miss N. Feehan

We proudly present the nineteen seniors from our Yearbook Staff who are honored by membership in Quill and Scroll, the International Honorary Society for High School Journalists. As a reward for high scholarship as well as journalistic achievement and service, students are recommended and initiated to Quill and Scroll by Miss Feehan, literary adviser.
